COUNTY FARMERS MAY BENEFIT BY SOIL BANK PROGRAM

Many owners of crop and hayland in Oxford County are eligible to have a contract under the Conservation Reserve section of the Federal Soil Bank Act, according to William C. Chapman, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, which is to administer the Soil Bank program in the county. Mr. Chapman states that information about the Conservation Reserve contract is being sent by mail to all farmers on the mailing list at the county office, but he believes that there are a large number of owners of crop and hayland eligible to go into the Conservation Reserve who are not on the mailing list.

The chairman points out that there is one practice of the Conservation Reserve that is very valuable in this area, namely, forest tree planting. He says that any hayland or cropland from which a crop was or will be harvested in 1955 or in 1956 that is accepted by the County Committee and for which a contract is signed by March 15, 1957, can go into the reserve in 1957, under the tree planting practice at a rental of $2.75 per acre plus 80 per cent of the cost of getting the trees established.

Mr. Chapman further states that the contract must be for at least 10 years, and if planting stock is not available next spring, the contract can be continued until trees are available. Mr. Chapman believes that this tree planting part of the Conservation Reserve should be particularly attractive to owners of hayland that would be more valuable in producing timber than hay in future years.

The chairman further points out that the $2.75 per acre annual rate of payment can also be made for land now in tame hay if it is eligible for a contract and is accepted for the Soil Bank. Still another part of the program, according to Mr. Chapman, provides for a payment of $9.00 per acre where row crop and grain crop acres are taken out of production, and either these same acres or the same number of acres elsewhere on the farm are put into the reserve.

Mr. Chapman wants to make it clear that nothing can be harvested from any land that is in the Conservation Reserve during the contract period, which runs from three, five or ten years, according to the kind of vegetative cover now growing or to be established on the land. The chairman states

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS' OFFICE

Towns of Oxford County as well as some other towns were well represented at the joint Civil Defense and Municipal Managers meeting Wednesday night. Much credit is due the ladies of the Guild who served a very nice supper in the Congregational Church. Col. Mapes, Director of Civil Defense, and members of his staff were present and presented a lot of information on Civil Defense.

You will very soon receive your estimated tax. This is based on the new valuation figures compiled by the Cole, Layer and Trumble Company who as you know have been working on the town's valuation for about eight months. Our new valuation for the town is just over $8,000,000. Our proposed rate is $28.40 per thousand dollars of valuation.

If you have good reason to believe your valuation is unjust when you receive your notice, you will have the privilege of coming to the assessors' office to talk this over either Oct. 8, 9 or 10 with the assessors and Cole, Layer & Trumble.

Thanks
O. T. Rozelle

BETHEL COMMUNITY HEALTH COUNCIL HAS YEAR OF SERVICE

With the fall of this year the Bethel Community Health Council will complete a year of activity. Organized during the 1955-56 season, this organization has already proved its worth. Every citizen of Bethel and surrounding area is a member, with the various fraternal and social organizations having special persons chosen to act as their organization representatives. This group is unique in that it expends no money, has no treasury. Its purpose was to coordinate all health and welfare activities in the community and to enlarge the scope of interest in these matters. This purpose the Bethel Community Health Council, guided by its able board of officers, has endeavored to carry out.

A transportation program was started in October. This has proven to be a very worthwhile project. Children and adults have been transported to various clinics and doctors in Lewiston, Portland and Rumford. There have been 23 trips in all to Lewiston 12, Portland 8, and Rumford 3. A lot of credit goes to John Greenleaf, who is chairman of this project. The American Legion Auxiliary has now taken over this project to make up a large list of names of people who will transport patients.

The second project of the Council was the blood typing program, carried out by the Rumford Hospital Auxiliary. Through the list made last spring several persons have already been given emergency or booster transfusions. Another project was the annual Child Health Clinic, carried out by the Eleanor Gordon Guild of the Methodist Church and the Congregational Guild. Under way now are plans for the integration of the community Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. The Council sincerely hopes that its member organizations will participate in this project as actively as they have in the previous projects.

Meetings of the Council, which are held quarterly, are of general interest and everyone is urged to attend. The town's inhalator was demonstrated one evening. On another Mrs. Aino Rissanen, Medical Social Consultant for the Department of Health and Welfare gave a most enlightening talk on facilities for the needs of the crippled child.

Mrs. Dale Thurston, president, hopes many people will attend the meeting on the first Thursday of October, at which time initial plans will be drawn up for a tri-county Health and Welfare Conference to which the Bethel Council will be host in the spring of 1957. At this meeting Dr. Willard Boynton will speak on rheumatic fever heart disease. Everyone is cordially invited.

Miss Polly King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul King, is enrolled at Becker Junior College in Worcester, Mass., and left this past week end to start her studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashida Hamilton and son, Robert, have recently moved from Westboro to the John Howe residence on Broad Street.

Mr. Hamilton is employed at the Grand Paper Company, Rumford.

The Methodist Happy-Go-Lucky Club is sponsoring a social at the American Legion Rooms Oct. 5 from 7 to 9:30 for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Refreshments will be sold and a door prize will be given.

WILDLIFE INVITED IN NORTH KEZAR POND AREA

Members of the Game Division, Department of Inland Fisheries and Game were assisted by residents of the Fryeburg area recently when blasting of four ditches took place in 600 acres of unbroken marsh at the north end of Kezar Pond.

The purpose of the work, which created 1000 feet of ditch averaging four feet in width, was to create more desirable waterfowl and fur bearer habitat. Activities such as these are part of a statewide cooperative wildlife development program for privately owned land being conducted by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game.

Richard Parks of Alfred, Regional Game Biologist, Steve Powell of Odesa Grove, Development Project Leader, and Kenneth Hodgson, Assistant Game Division Chief, were assisted by local residents of the landowner, Judge Hugh Hastings of Fryeburg. Ten cases of ditching dynamite were used.

In order to help establish suitable nesting conditions for woodcock 24 woodcock boxes will be erected by the landowner with a being contributed by the State. Other ducks known to take advantage of this type housing include goldeneye, whistlers and hooded mergansers.

If necessary aquatic plants will be selected and planted by the landowner at a later date with assistance from Game Division personnel.

The area involved according to a signed agreement, will be kept open to public hunting for a specified number of years in this case five. Under this type of agreement with the State landowners agree to make no direct charge for hunting privileges nor reserve such privileges for any private club.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason are spending some time in Portland.

On and after Oct. 1, my office will be at the corner of Main and Philbrook Streets, next to the Brooks hardware store.

The Week in Oxford County

Approval of the loan of $12,000 to the Bethel Home Telephone Co. is announced by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Eric Davis, 34, of Oxford, suffered cuts and bruises when his convertible left the road on Route 34 and overturned Sunday night. He was taken to a Lewiston hospital. His car was demolished.

Henry H. Homer, 61, a life-long resident of Norway reportedly died from a heart attack Friday. His body was removed from the wreckage of the oil and gas truck he was driving. The truck left the road and a utility pole and went head on into a tree on Paris Street.

Hugh Chisholm, board chairman of the Oxford Paper Co., was honored guest at a community dinner, Sept. 27. The affair was held at the Rumford Armory.

Plans for the fair for the Rumford Community Hospital are about completed. Charles Ferguson, president of the hospital reports that the fair has raised a total of $174,922.01 during its nineteen years of operation.

Several communities, including Bethel, Norway, South Paris, West Paris, Bryant Pond, Locke Mills and Gilead were without electricity for nearly 15 minutes Monday evening. The difficulty reportedly originated at Gulf Island.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yates of West Paris were honor guests at a golden wedding observance for them at their home Sunday afternoon.

Fifth and sixth grade pupils of Lincoln School on Paris Hill will be conveyed to Paris Junior High School effective October 1.

The eighth annual banquet of the 60 and 26 Year Service Clubs of the Oxford Paper Company was held at the Rumford Armory Wednesday evening with more than 200 members and guests attending.

From the Chickasha Star, Chickasha, Oklahoma: When James A. Farley was Postmaster General he ordered two sets of books kept on his department. One set showed the amount of postage paid on first class mail and other classes that paid postage, and the cost of delivery of it. The other set of books showed the amount of mail sent by federal departments and the cost of delivery.

This manner of bookkeeping proved that mail matter that paid postage was paying its way, and that the deficit of the department was caused by the free, or franked, mail sent out by Congressmen and other departments.

Now, here is a point to consider: Nearly all of the mail sent out by Congressmen is designed primarily to secure votes, to keep the federal government money to carry and deliver this mail. We have a law in Oklahoma that says candidates for office must account for all expenses by themselves, or others, to promote their candidacies. This franked mail sent out by Congressmen to promote their candidacies would come under this provision of law. We wonder how many will include this in making their reports.

And another point, Mr. Farley proved that if this free mailing was stopped the postal department would be self-sustaining, there would be no deficit.

From the Lincoln Times, Lincoln, N. C.: We Americans have a high regard for speed. The fact that we make things faster and distribute them faster than other nations has a great deal to do with our economic strength. In sports we like fast moving games. For most of us life is geared to a pretty fast tempo.

But there's a place for everything—including speed. And the staggering toll of traffic deaths, plus the fact that speed is involved in a majority of them, makes it plain that speed has no place on the highway.

It's rather interesting to note that safety authorities are concerned with more than just exceeding the speed limit. They list failure to give the right of way, passing without caution, driving too fast for road, traffic and weather conditions, and following the car ahead too closely as symptomatic of the "in a hurry" complex that causes accidents.

This newspaper accents Slow Down and Live as its slogan for the highways.

If our readers want to follow suit—then welcome to the club.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Just about everyone has heard of the Federal Reserve Board. Most people probably know, in a vague and general way, that this body, which is entirely non-partisan and non-political, has great powers of oversight of the U. S. money and supply. It is equally probable, however, that many of us feel that the Federal Reserve has little if any influence on the life of the average man, and that they are of direct interest only to large financial and industrial interests.

That feeling, as numbers of people are now learning at first hand to their regret, is far from true. In fact, it is true that what the Board does in limiting or expanding the money supply has a powerful impact on how much it is also true that it has an equally powerful impact on individual income. A feature article in the Sept. 18 issue of the U. S. News and World Report tells the current story on the Board and money.

For some time the Board has been growing what is known as a "tight" money policy. The reason, used to justify the 51-day bills of an $100 million increase in the money supply, was abundant and cheap at an interest rate of 3/8 of one percent. Now the rate is 2 1/2 percent.

A builder with plans for 200 and 300 houses may find both harder to get. The result is pressure for to get and more expensive in a real estate market that darkens the clouds of the future. In other words, it is an anti-inflation policy. As it goes. As the magazine puts it, "The Board's aim is to keep the money supply an amount of money adequate for normal needs, but to keep the money supply tight enough to discourage undertakings that can only be justified by an increase in the money supply."

There is plenty of credit available, but larger down payments are asked, and the number of months allowable for paying the balance is being reduced. That means larger monthly payments.

Home buyers, used to limitless credit at low rates of interest, will also find that things have changed. Larger down payments are required, and in many cases amortization time is shortened. On top of that interest rates generally are up by a full one percent.

A county embarking on a school building venture financed by bonds, finds the market less favorable. It has to offer a higher interest rate. Over a 20-year period the increased interest cost on a $10,000,000 issue could amount to $1,000,000.

Businessmen, needing money for inventories and plant expansion, are in a similar fix. Interest rates are up, by about one per cent. On a big long-term loan that may involve $100,000,000 in additional interest.

Even the U. S. Treasury is not immune from the impact of "tight" money policy. The reason, used to justify the 51-day bills of an $100 million increase in the money supply, was abundant and cheap at an interest rate of 3/8 of one percent. Now the rate is 2 1/2 percent.

SIMPLE SAFETY RULES FOR HIGHWAY TRAVEL

It is a fact that a large number of highway accidents are caused by drivers who do not follow the rules. If you observe the following rules, you can avoid many of these accidents.

The OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

the hole away from him for a while . . . until he convinces you that he knows the rules and that he will obey them always. Our Government's Commission on Highway Safety lists these important safety rules:

1. Ride with and against traffic and keep to the far right of the road.
2. Do not drink or show off.
3. Do not carry passengers.
4. Never hitch on to a passing vehicle.
5. Carry books and packages in a carrier, not under your arms or on the hood.
6. If you must ride at night, be sure your bike is equipped with a head light in front and a clean reflector in the rear.
7. Do not ride your bike safely.

CONSERVATION RESERVE . . .

is for ALL FARMS

All farm land regularly used to produce crops, including tame hay, is eligible for the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. Farmers participating in the Conservation Reserve will sign contracts through County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees to shift land from production to conservation. Contracts will be for 3 or 5 years if the land already is in an approved cover crop; for 5 or 10 years if approved cover must be established; and for 10 to 15 years if trees will be planted. Up to 50 percent of the costs of conservation practices may be paid by the government. In addition, annual payments on the land will be made during the life of the contract. Farmers also may participate in the Soil Bank's Acquire Reserve if they have allotments for wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice, or sorghum.

WASHINGTON

Q—Did both political parties adopt a plank relating to farm cooperatives?

A—Yes. The Republican plank pledges "full support to farmer-owned and farmer controlled cooperatives." The Democratic plank pledges the party to "encourage bona fide farm cooperatives which help farmers reduce the cost-price squeeze, and protect such cooperatives against punitive taxation."

Q—Can you give me the personnel of the Commission named by President Eisenhower to lead more industrial uses for farm products?

A—The chairman of the five-man commission is J. Leroy Welsh, Omaha, Neb., grain operator and member of board of regents of University of Nebraska. Other members include George Henry Coppers, Englewood, N. J., President of the National Biscuit Co.; Dr. Karl Butler, agricultural consultant to AVCO Manufacturing Co.; Dr. Frank J. Weiler, Lexington, Ky., Dean of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture; and Dr. Charles R. Sayre, Scott, Miss., President of Delta & Pine Land Co.

Q—How many National Parks are there?

A—There are now 29. President Eisenhower recently signed a bill creating the Virgin Islands National Park, occupying most of the island of St. John, smallest of the Virgin Islands.

Q—Which is the oldest park in Washington?

A—Lafayette park is probably the oldest. Incidentally, 1957 will be celebrated by the French government as Lafayette's centennial, marking the 200th anniversary of his birth. President Rene Coty of France will send invitations to the mayors of 42 cities in the United States named after Lafayette to participate in "Lafayette de Paris Week" June 28 to July 4, 1957. Focal point of interest will be the Chateau de Chavagnac, Lafayette's birthplace in the Auvergne region of France.

Q—Does the Act prohibit a lobbyist from conferring with a member of Congress in support of or in opposition to pending legislation without registration?

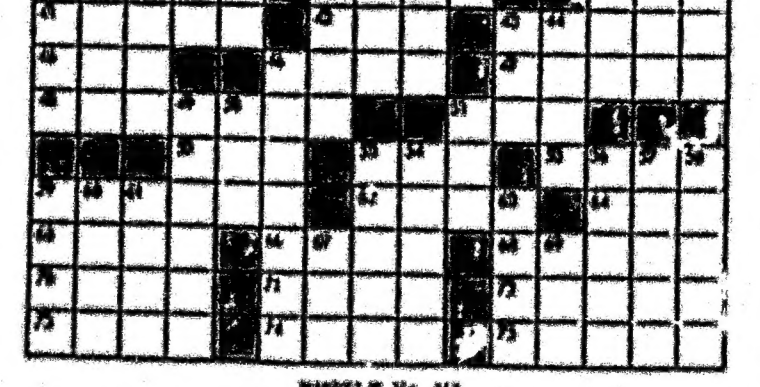

A—No. The law does not require registration except in instances in which money is collected or received for efforts and influence used in behalf of or for bills.

Q—When did General Sherman say "War is hell?"

A—Historians generally agree that General William Tecumseh Sherman said, "War is hell," when he was at the height of his fame during the Civil War, but there is little substantial evidence to support that assumption. One Iowa officer, aide-de-camp to General E. E. Winslow of the Fourth Iowa Cavalry, reported in 1918, 56 years after the alleged event, that he overheard Sherman make the famous remark as his troops were crossing the Pearl River at Jackson, Mississippi, soon after the fall of Vicksburg.

Q—What is the oldest college in the United States?

A—Harvard University, which has been continuously operated since 1636.

SCHAFS OF PAPER
It would be impossible to describe adequately the human and material destruction that, in modern times, has followed the cynical abandonment of pledged agreements and obligations among nations. A particularly callous example was Wilhelm II's "scrap of paper" declaration when he tore up the German-Belgium treaty at the beginning of the First World War. There have been many comparable examples since, with fearful consequences for the guilty and innocent alike.

Premier Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal makes one remember such events. Nasser has attempted to assume the other powers by declaring that the canal will be kept open and that its former owners will be recompensed for nationalization. But that is a minor matter, in the long view, when set beside the plain fact that Nasser violated Egypt's pledged word, as pressed by treaty.

Under that treaty the canal would have gone into the possession of Egypt in the relatively near future. In 1956, But Nasser, with his dream of empire, and his policy of pitting East against West, would not wait. That attitude of his—whatever happens in the current crisis—may cost his country dearly.

Egypt—like all the Middle East—is desperate for Western capital. But will private capital from this or any other Western country be invested in Egypt when it is known that she will respect treaties and obligations only if they happen to suit her mood of the moment? It is hardly likely.

Will Egypt still expect aid from the U. S. government? In this connection, a suggestion made editorially by The Saturday Evening Post is indeed it is that our government "announce that no oil or foreign-aid barrel is closed to countries which refuse to accept their responsibilities or stand their agreements."

SUNDAY'S SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

UNFAILING REFUGE

IN THE equinoctial storms that come usually in September, let us remember how the Psalmist wrote of God as his refuge and strength and the assurance of help that the righteous should be moved.

There are many storms of earthly that beat upon the soul and many of them will tend to reduce one to ruin if he cannot find support beyond and within himself. The Psalmist was a believer in the Almighty God who felt the presence of a power greater than himself. This was also true of the prophets of old, in a time of danger, when their servant was sore afraid, that the eyes of the servant might be opened that he might see the heavenly forces arrayed on their side.

Perhaps, as you look back over the way of your life, you can call to mind a time when you cried out to God in an agony of plea for help and received assurance that all would be well. Someone said that while it is true that the chain is no stronger than its weakest link, it is also true that the Alps are just as high as their highest peak. Judge yourself by the best you have been able to do in the past by the power of God. Form your plans and live your ways by the thought of God's times when God was with you in the past.

By The Saturday Evening Post is indeed it is that our government "announce that no oil or foreign-aid barrel is closed to countries which refuse to accept their responsibilities or stand their agreements."

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould Opens Season at

South Paris

Gould Academy will open its 1956 football season playing the Cardinals at Paris on Saturday. Coach Scott has had an extra week to prepare his men because of the failure to fill a Sept. 22nd open date. The team appears to have plenty of weight but lacking in speed. Regulars back from the '55 season are Captain Jim Murphy, Gerry Smith, and Jack Reid in the backfield and linemen Terry Russell, Gus Patterson, and Paul Murphy, a defensive man. Jack Reid, however, has sustained a knee injury and will be out for about a month. He will be missed at the quarterback position. Other lettermen returning are Jerry Snell (c), Ken Nowlin (b), Tim Richardson (c), Albert Sumner (b) and Bill Anderson (qb).

Other squadmen of last year who should see considerable service are Bill Tallon (c), Paul Stevens (c),
Bill Black (g), Eric Wright (b), Ted
White (qb), Ron Willard (g), Ken Roberts (b), Bill Ripley (b), Bob Butters (b), Larry Bragg (c), Larry Cummings (c), Dennis Robertson (c), Peter Baker (c), and Stan Cornwall (c).

A number of new men who lack experience but are showing up well are John Giddings (c), Jim Hill (b), Norm Buttrick (g), Bill Ide (c),
Pete Nichols (b), and Gary Alusky.
Other new members, mostly Freshmen, are Steve Karpowich, Roy Brown, John Todd, Dwight Merrill, Dave Head, Paul Korhonen, John Luke, Dave Burnham, Dick Stevens, Wayne Corkum, Ed Haskell, Doug Rice and Bill Gallagher.

The squad has a nucleus of experience but there is a vast amount of green material. The spirit is good and a willingness to learn is prevalent. Hopes are that last year's disappointing record will be improved.

Coach Scott announces the following probable starting lineup: Ia,
Snell; II, Russell; Ig, Patterson; c,
Paul Stevens; rg, Richardson; rt, Brenckley; re, Giddings; qb, Anderson; lb, Hill; rb, Jim Murphy; fb,

WANT THE TRUTH?
Up to 6,000 traffic accident deaths this year won't be "accidents" at all!

Forty thousand Americans will die in traffic accidents this year, according to the present mounting rate. And nearly six thousand of those deaths will be unnecessary because of driver negligence—according to the FBI!

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP STOP THESE TRAGEDIES

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning signs. Where drivers are careful and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws! Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Our Governor's Committee on Highway Safety tells us that youngsters who are playing hard are frequently too wrapped up in their exciting activity to remember what they have been taught about safety in traffic. When you are behind the wheel, drive with great care. Whenever youngsters are near, stay alert and be ready to make an emergency stop safely. Remember, more children die from accidents than from any disease.

YOUNG HUNTER BE ACCOMPANIED PARENT OR GUARDIAN

In order to avoid any misunderstanding of the Maine law as they apply to juveniles, the Maine Game Warden Elmer Ingraham issued an appeal to young hunters and their parents or guardians. "It is important," states the Chief, "that a clear understanding of the law be uppermost in our minds. Maine hunting regulations state that no person under the age of 16 years may engage in any circumstances where accompanied at all parent or guardian. Three considerations relate to juvenile law, which are misunderstood. To put the form of questions and they are as follows:

1. Can a person under 16 hunt alone on land?

Answer: No, because the law is primarily designed as a protection to the youngster and others.

2. At what age is a person considered an adult under the provisions of this law?

Answer: An adult is a person 21 years of age or older.

3. Can a parent or guardian take a boy or girl under 16 with him and post him stand and drive drive toward a deer?

Answer: No, because the law must be accompanied times by the parent or guardian which means in sight at all times.

The Maine Game Warden has been instructed to enforce the law rigidly. The result is obvious.

An analysis of the 1955 accident record in Maine emphasizes the seriousness of the problem. From a total of 58 accidents last year, 21, or 36 percent, were caused by young drivers under the age of 21. Six of these involved shooters under the age of 16.

The above statistics bear testimony to the vital need for careful attention to our juvenile law. Cooperate with your Game Warden this fall and make Maine the safest state in the land.

The Bethel Community Council will meet this Thursday evening at the American Legion. The speaker will be H. Boynton. His subject is "Mental Fever Heart Disease." Public is urged to attend.
